MARCH IS A MONTH OF EXCITEMENT AT THE FULFORD PLANETARIUM!

What a busy month February was, and March looks to be just as busy! Throughout the month of March, we will welcome a variety of groups to the Fulford Planetarium, and we hope you will contact us soon to schedule a visit. We currently have five shows, and there's something here for all ages. A new show, Magic Tree House: Space Mission, should arrive this month. The show, based on the beloved series of children's books, promises to be very popular among all age groups.

Through the Fulford Planetarium, visitors can enjoy a wide variety of shows and special events designed to educate and entertain and advance their understanding of

TREES PLANTED IN HONOR OF MRS. ADA LEE CORRELL

The Seedling Garden Club recently planted two dogwood trees in honor of Ada Lee Correll for her many contributions to Swainsboro and Emanuel County. Mrs. Correll and her husband, Pete, made a generous donation to the East Georgia College Foundation for the construction of the Fulford Center, in loving memory of her mother, Mrs. Sudie Fulford.

The trees will serve as a reminder of Mrs. Correll's love of and commitment to this community.

THANK YOU!

- We are grateful to Sandra Dye for the lovely Valentine wreath she created and presented to the Fulford Center. It added a nice and loving touch to the center during the month of February and was enjoyed by all our visitors!

- Thank you to Bill Rogers and the Swainsboro/Emanuel County Chamber of Commerce for their continued support of our Lunch and Learn Series.

- Thank you to the Seedling Garden Club for the lovely dogwood trees planted at the center to honor Ada Lee Correll. They add such beauty to the grounds of the center.

SECOND GRADERS GET A TASTE OF COLLEGE LIFE

During the month of February, second graders from throughout the Emanuel County School District took part in a day-long visitation to East Georgia College. The series of educational activities were taught by college faculty and assisted by EGC students. Part of the visit included a planetarium show at the Fulford Planetarium. Students marveled at the sights provided by the full dome theater. They learned about the different types of stars, how star clusters and galaxies form, and basic information about our Solar System. Over 350 students took part in the experience.
