

SECTION 1. INSTITUTIONAL MISSION AND STUDENT BODY PROFILE

East Georgia State College (EGSC) is an associate degree granting, liberal arts institution providing access to academically transferable programs of study and targeted baccalaureate degrees at low cost to its students. As a unit of the University System of Georgia (USG) within the State College Sector, EGSC extends its access mission from its home campus in Swainsboro to instructional sites on the campuses of Georgia Southern University in Statesboro and Augusta University in Augusta.

Presented in Tables 1a and 1b below are the number and percentages of EGSC fall semester students broken down by location and mode of delivery for Fall 2014 through Fall 2023. The declines in enrollment experienced during the COVID-19 pandemic in 2020 and 2021 have moderated in the last two years but continue.

Fall Semester 2023 Comparisons of EGSC with the USG State College Sector

Throughout the Complete College Georgia initiative (2012 to 2023), EGSC's four largest demographic cohorts have been African American (Black) Females; African American (Black) Males; White (Non-Hispanic) Females; and White (Non-Hispanic) Males. As indicated in Table 2 below for Fall Semester 2023 the ethnic composition of EGSC's student population differed from the State College Sector overall. EGSC serves higher proportions of Black and multiracial students and lower proportions of Hispanic and Asian students.

Student Ethnic Composition	EGSC	USG
White	42.9%	44.1%
Black	39.9%	25.6%
Hispanic	7.5%	20.2%
Asian	1.6%	4.9%
Two or More Races	4.6%	3.1%
Other	3.6%	2.0%

For Fall Semester 2023, EGSC's student population was similar to the USG State College Sector in some ways and dissimilar in other ways. 58 percent of EGSC students were full-time compared to 57.3 percent of students across the State College Sector. EGSC women students made up 56.7 percent of the student population compared to 62.7 percent the State College Sector.

Fall Semester 2023 Student Profile

A numeric breakdown of EGSC's Fall 2023 enrollment demographic cohorts by location and mode of delivery is presented below in Table 3a. A percentage breakdown of EGSC's demographic cohorts is presented below in Table 3b.

Fall Semester 2023 First-Time Freshmen (FTF) Profile

Presented in Table 4 below is a breakdown by percentage of first-time freshmen (FTF) based on course load for Fall Semester 2023. Most first-time freshmen who attend one or more classes at an EGSC location are full-time. In contrast, a smaller majority of FTF taking classes online only are full-time students.

Table 4: Fall 2023 First-Time Freshmen by Course Load

Presented in Table 5 below is a breakdown by percentage of Fall 2023 first-time freshmen are first generation college students and who receive a Pell Grant.

EGSC Comparisons with Peer Colleges

In 2017, EGSC selected fifteen colleges, including three within the USG, as its comparison group for the National Center for Education Statistics (NCES). Each EGSC data feedback report generated from the Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System (IPEDS) compares the College to this group. According to the IPEDS Data Feedback Report 2023 for the College, 38 percent of EGSC enrolled students in Fall Semester 2022 were Black, in contrast with 6 percent for its comparison group. In addition, 46 percent of EGSC enrolled students in Fall Semester 2022 were white, in contrast with 60 percent for its comparison group. The majority of EGSC were full-time students, while the majority of students in its comparison group were part-time. In Fall Semester 2022, EGSC also had 40 percent of its students taking at least one course online, in contrast to 28 percent of its comparators. As in previous years, tuition and fees charged by EGSC to full-time, first-time (FTFT) students were lower than its comparison group. In contrast, the average net price of attendance for FTFT students was higher at EGSC than its comparison group. The 2023 feedback report included three-year associate degree graduation and transfer-out rates for the Fall Semester 2016 FTFT cohort. While EGSC's graduation rate of 13 percent was lower than the 27 percent average for its comparison group, EGSC's transfer-out rate of 53 percent was substantially higher than the 14 percent average for its comparison group. The combination of these two rates for the Fall 2016 FTFT cohort indicates a success rate of 66 percent for EGSC in fulfilling its access mission.

Update these sections for 2023
Progress and Adjustments (what has been accomplished and what changes do you feel you need to make)
Academic Counseling is a personal process for each student so one-on-one meetings help to create and identify the right academic plan. Advisors need to explain the difference and help students make a commitment to four or six semesters. It is an individual choice, and the advisor can provide academic advice on course scheduling.
Plan for the year ahead (What steps will you be taking in 2023)
The advisement team is facilitating conversation with EGSC administrators to develop a strategic plan on how to enforce this as an advising approach on all EGSC campuses. Faculty administration is getting faculty advisors involved and additional staff have been added to the advisement team.
What challenges will affect your ability to do this activity?
Communicating the importance of not withdrawing from classes if students are enrolled in 12 credit hours. If they do not attend class and are dropped, then students stand the risk of not being a full-time student and not graduating on time. If they had 15 credit hours and were dropped from a class; they would still have full-time status and stand a better chance of graduating on time.
What support do you need from outside your institution (e.g., the System Office or other institutions) to be successful?
None anticipated.

Activity/Project Overview or Description (what this is?)
We would like to set up inclusive access for all the digital content used as textbook for all sections that require the purchase of a textbook. Inclusive Access, also known as automatic textbook billing, is a sales model for college textbooks. Inclusive access allows for the digital content to be delivered to students by the first day of class. Students have a period to “opt out” before they are billed through their tuition and fees. In addition to saving money on the price of the digital content, inclusive access was shown to increase student success in classes and retention.

KPIs: (pg. 34 of QEP)
1) Success-rate: Percentage of passing grades (ABC) 2) Average Cumulative GPA for participants in SLCs 3) Retention Rates
Baseline measure (for each KPI): (pg. 34 of QEP)
1) Participants in SLCs who are taking first-year courses will have a higher percentage of passing grades (15% more) and fewer DFWI grades than students who did not participate in an SLC. 2) Average Cumulative GPA for participants in SLCs will be .5 higher than similar students who did not participate in an SLC. 3) Participants in SLCs will have retention rates several percentage points higher than students who did not participate in an SLC.
Current/most recent data (for each KPI):
1) Success-rates: In the Table below, the percentages of passing grades for students taking SLC courses are compared to students who did not participate in an SLC. In Spring 2021, Fall 2021, and Spring 2022, students in SLCs performed significantly lower and had higher rates of DFWI grades. In Spring 2022 and Summer 2022, training sessions for faculty were implemented for creating and teaching SLCs. In Fall 2022 and Spring 2023, the passing rates of students participating in SLCs increased and surpassed those in previous semesters (by 18-21%). In addition, the DFWI rates decreased and was less than those for students who did not participate in an SLC. However, the goal of a 15% more pass rate for students in an SLC was not achieved in any of the semesters that SLCs were conducted.

- 2) Cumulative GPA: The goal is for students who participate in an SLC to have an Average Cumulative GPA .5 higher than similar students who did not participate in an SLC. The Table below compares students who participated in an SLC with those who did not in terms of their semester GPAs and overall GPAs. In Spring 2021, Fall 2021, and Spring 2022, students in SLCs performed significantly lower in regard to their term and overall GPAs. In Fall 2022, students in SLCs showed an increase in their term GPA, which was closer to those of their non-participating equivalents. However, students who did not participate in an SLC had a greater overall GPA (by .2). In Spring 2023, students who participated in an SLC had a higher term GPA by .03, but still fell behind in the overall GPA by .08. Thus, while students have shown progression towards the baseline KPI in the last year, our current goal has not been met.

Grade Point Averages	SLC Students		Non-SLC Students
	Term GPA	Overall GPA	Term GPA	Overall GPA
Spring 2021	1.58	1.82	2.05	2.17
Fall 2021	1.21	1.34	2.07	2.10
Spring 2022	1.71	1.71	2.21	2.29
Fall 2022	2.13	1.96	2.16	2.16
Spring 2023	2.19	2.16	2.16	2.24

- 4) Retention Rates: The goal is that participants in SLCs will have retention rates several percentage points higher than students who did not participate in an SLC. In Fall 2021, non-SLC students had higher retention rates than students who participated in an SLC. The Table below illustrates that non-SLC students had a 6.9% higher rate of retention. However, in Fall 2022, students who participated in SLCs had a 10.1 % higher retention rate. It is also important to note that in comparison between Fall 2021 and Fall 2022, the retention rate for SLC students increased from 29.9% to 46.9%; this was a 17% increase for the year. Thus, while SLCs did not meet their goal in the first year, they did meet it in the second year.

Goal or targets (for each KPI): pg. 34 of the QEP: <https://www.ega.edu/about/sacsoc/qep/files/egsc-quality-enhancement-plan-2020.pdf>

Time period/duration: QEP was implemented in 2020. The QEP is currently in its second piloting stage. During Fall 2022, the QEP Team entered Phase 3 of the timeline. During Phase 3, the QEP evaluated the SLCs effectiveness and attempted to revise accordingly. Initially the QEP proposed that it would be increasing the numbers of SLCs during Fall 2023 and Spring 2024, lack of enrollment, scheduling issues, and other factors led to a discussion of a new approach to implementing SLCs. This new approach was approved at the end of April 2023. The first thematic approach to SLCs will be implemented in spring 2024. The 5-yr plan will be in 2025.

Update these sections for 2023

Progress and Adjustments (what has been accomplished and what changes do you feel you need to make)

Over the last year, the Quality Enhancement Plan team has focused on training faculty to prepare them for creating, teaching, and assessing Student Learning Communities. As the Director, Jessica Todd has assisted with training faculty and led presentations to assist faculty with their learning objectives, teaching strategies, and assessment.

On February 25, 2022, at least 25 faculty members attended a training workshop which Jessica Todd led on using the backward design process to create an SLC.

On March 25, 2022, a faculty workshop was held to review how to complete and submit an SLC Application. In addition to training, at least 4 faculty members who taught an SLC shared their insights on their past experiences of teaching an SLC. For instance, faculty discussed some approaches and assignments they used with their English and History linked courses. In addition, other faculty shared their experiences with their linked Wellness and English courses. Each faculty member shared how SLCs can be improved and a few challenges that they encountered.

In April 2022, Jessica Todd coordinated SLC classrooms visits with Harley Smith, our Marketing and Community Relations Coordinator. Mrs. Smith visited classrooms to interview the professors and students about their SLC experiences. These video interviews and photos were used in the new promotional materials on campus (i.e., freshman orientation module and QEP banners).

On May 17, 2022, Dr. Ren Denton led a workshop to discuss direct and indirect assessment. The workshop was designed to assist faculty with developing assessment methods for their SLCs and to aid in the completion of the SLC Faculty Self-Assessment Form. Jessica Todd assisted with the workshop and led a Zoom discussion with some of the attending professors.

On June 9, 2022, at least 10 faculty members attended a training workshop, which Jessica Todd led. During the workshop, topics such as student success strategies for SLCs, interdisciplinary learning, and activities to engage students were addressed. Resources from the K. Patricia Cross Academy were shared with faculty, so they could explore activities to incorporate into their classrooms. In addition, the importance of being transparent about course objectives, links between the two SLC courses, and course policies were addressed (TILT).

On July 12, 2022, 15 faculty attended a training workshop, which Jessica Todd led. She reviewed how to create learning objectives, how to assess objectives, how to assess a course, how to create effective lesson plans, and how to promote student engagement. This workshop was in response to faculty feedback from the previous workshop on June 9, 2022.

On September 9, 2022, Jessica Todd took part in the Faculty Professional Development workshop. She reviewed the Quality Enhancement Plan and its purpose for new faculty. She also discussed some of the feedback she received from the Spring 2022 faculty concerning their SLCs (reported on their self-assessments). She also discussed some activities that she was using in her ENGL 1101 Composition course to foster the connection between the students, their linked ART 1100 Introduction to Art course, and the campus community. She encouraged other faculty to share how their SLCs were doing and any strategies they were implementing. Lastly, she discussed some free webinars for educators hosted by Adobe.

On September 22, 2022, EGSC Augusta faculty participated in the Augusta University reading of the Amendments for Constitution Day. The professors not only participated in the reading, but they also brought their SLC students from their American History and American Government classes to the event. At least 16 of their 20 students attended the 2-hr. celebration with readings, voter registration information, and snacks.

In November 2022, the students in Jessica Todd's Student Learning Community with Mr. Purcell, ART 1100/ENGL 1101 class, showcased an exhibit of artwork created with AI. The students' work was displayed in the EGSC Art Gallery and was the basis of a collaborative effort for students to argue whether art created by AI was considered "true art."

In November 2022, Jessica Todd worked in conjunction with the EGSC Library to develop a Faculty LibGuide to help with Faculty Development and the QEP: https://ega.libguides.com/faculty\_development. Topics on the LibGuide include interdisciplinary teaching, high-impact practices, student learning communities, and faculty/student mindset. We tried to incorporate many eBooks and online sources, so that faculty on any campus would have access to the resources without having to request them through GIL or Interlibrary Loan.

In December 2022, Jessica Todd attended the SACSCOC Annual Conference in Atlanta. As the QEP Director, Jessica Todd attended various workshops and seminars related to the QEP and retention in order to help benefit the college with our current QEP regarding Student Learning Communities (SLCs).

In Spring 2023, there were four SLCs. Of these four, two SLCs were conducted on the Statesboro campus, one was conducted on the Swainsboro campus, and one was conducted online. During the Fall 2022 and Spring 2023 semesters, the QEP team met to discuss new approaches and strategies for implementing SLCs due to decreasing enrollment and scheduling issues. From these discussions, a new approach to SLCs was proposed. The QEP Director, Jessica Todd, presented the new thematic approach to SLCs to faculty on February 2, 2023. Faculty were able to express their opinions and vote whether they approved of this new approach. Jessica Todd also contacted faculty to gauge which faculty would be interested in working with students in the residence centers, clubs/organizations, and/or teaching thematic SLCs for the Spring 2024 semester. Note: Survey was sent out on Feb 10, 2023. Only 5 faculty completed the survey.

On April 7, 2023, Jessica Todd presented the new thematic approach to SLCs to the APCC where it was approved. On April 21, 2023, Jessica Todd presented the new thematic approach to SLCs to the Faculty Senate where it was approved. On April 28, 2023, the new thematic approach to SLCs went to the President and was approved. Note: No SLCs were planned or implemented during fall 2023 because of the change in approach. The fall 2023 semester was spent on informing and training faculty/staff about the new approach to SLCs and planning and creating new SLCs for spring 2023 and fall 2024.

On Aug 8, 2023, Jessica Todd met with the Learning Support Directors to plan which courses and themes might be best for students in Learning Support English and Learning Support Math. This team created two possible Learning Communities around the themes of Community and Literacy.

On Aug 9, 2023, Jessica Todd met with the Director Student Success, to discuss a few possible SLCs and the best times for scheduling these courses. Jessica Todd discussed the two SLCs targeted toward Learning Support Students (Community and Literacy) as well as two other SLCs which focus on the minority experience in the United States and entrepreneurship. Dr. Georgia Sanders felt that the themes and topics would interest and engage our students. We discussed the best times for the SLCs, and Director Student Success noted that students tend to be more successful in classes that start around 9:30 am and end by 3:15 pm. She noted that students tend to focus and engage more in classes that fall between these time frames.

On Aug 18, 2023, Jessica Todd led an information session to inform faculty of the policy and structural changes for SLCs. For instance, the co-requisite model will no longer be used, and the thematic approach will replace it. The reasons behind the change were illustrated to faculty; the QEP Team wants students to have flexibility with scheduling and the ability to withdraw from a class if they are at risk of failing.

The QEP Director held an information and training session on Sep 8, 2023, to demonstrate how faculty will form thematic groups. In addition, Jessica Todd discussed the process of creating the SLCs' themes, learning objectives, and how to complete the SLC Thematic Group Proposal Form. Training materials and links were also provided on how to construct measurable learning objectives and how to use Bloom's Taxonomy in the development of learning objectives.

Activity #9 (concluded)
Plan for the year ahead (What steps will you be taking in 2023)
During the Fall 2023 semester, Jessica Todd will continue to initiate connections between thematic SLCs and the college community. For instance, she will also be contacting Housing to arrange a possible residential learning community for the fall 2024 SLCs. Note: The QEP Director has a possible meeting on Nov 2, 2023, to discuss the fall 2024 Residential Program with Sherrie Helms and Mikella Hansley. In addition to fostering connections to Housing, Jessica Todd will be contacting program directors for certain pathways to encourage student on student interaction. For instance, we hope to have students within the Teacher Education program lead various activities or workshops in the student residence centers to facilitate student engagement and a sense of community. Jessica Todd will also contact advisors of various campus clubs to start building themes for possible SLCs and collecting their interests to foster connections between SLCs and student clubs and organizations. Training sessions for faculty interested in teaching an SLC in fall 2024 will be conducted in January-February 2024. Promotion of the SLCs for the Fall 2024 and Spring 2025 semester is also another goal for this year. Jessica Todd would like to have the fall 2024 and spring 2025 SLCs prepared in advance, so promotional materials for spring 2025 SLCs can be printed to distribute to club advisors and students during the Fall 2024 semester.
What challenges will affect your ability to do this activity?
Student enrollment may impact the QEP. In addition, faculty participation in teaching SLCs and faculty involvement in the community aspect of the campus will also play a role (i.e., whether faculty advisors agree to participate in SLCs with their clubs, whether program directors agree to allow their students to participate in outside class college community activities, etc.). Promotion of the SLCs will also affect their success. Thus, the QEP Team hopes to have the support of faculty, administration, and the marketing team to assist with the development and support of the project.
What support do you need from outside your institution (e.g., the System Office or other institutions) to be successful?
Not applicable at the moment.

Activity/Project Overview or Description (Student Success)
The reorganization of retention/advising is almost complete. It includes: i) Restructuration of advising and retention staffs: The Director of Retention is becoming the Director of Student Success, and we are recruiting an Assistant Director. All advisors and student success coaches will all have the same title – Student Success Coach – but they will all do a little of both roles. ii) Team-based advising model: The implementation of a new team-based advising model would better support our students. The goal is to provide students with a comprehensive and well-rounded support system in the form of Student Success Teams. By leveraging the expertise of student success coaches, faculty mentors, faculty athletic associates, and other appropriate staff, students will receive tailored guidance that addresses their specific academic, career, and personal needs. This approach should enhance their overall college experience, leading to an increased likelihood of retention.

SECTION 3: OPTIONAL SUPPLEMENTAL UPDATES

Section 3 is not applicable. All EGSC strategies and activities are detailed in Section 2.

SECTION 4: OBSERVATIONS AND NEXT STEPS*What strategies and activities have been most successful?

1- Inclusive access: At the beginning of Fall 2022, the East Georgia State College Academic Team decided to implement a new sale model for college textbooks called inclusive access. This model, which is also known as automatic textbook, involves the delivery of digital content to students by the first day of class. The cost of the textbooks is directly charged to the students' account. However, students have a period to opt out of receiving the digital textbook. After a discussion with Lucy, Assistant Vice Chancellor for Academic Library Services and Executive Director of GALILEO at the University System of Georgia, we were able to start the inclusive access model in Spring 2023 and have expanded it through Fall 2023. While the effects on course success rate still need more semesters to be fully analyzed, this approach has been successful because the number of courses, sections, and students in sections with inclusive access have increased from Spring 2023 to Fall 2023, resulting in more than $75,000 saved in textbook cost. Finally, the very opt out rate suggests that students have adopted this model to deliver digital content.

2- Success coaches: At the beginning of the Spring 2023 semester, Success Coaches began scheduling workshops within the library after hours to provide academic tips in areas our students reflected deficiencies in such as study skills, and time management. Although many workshops were offered, we had very few students attend and realized we needed to collaborate with faculty to get inside the classrooms. Fall 2023 marked the beginning of Success Coaches collaborating with faculty to present workshops within the co-requisite classes. We have seen an increase of activity within the Academic Center for Excellence and look forward to collecting data on the impact these workshops have made within the classes attended success rates. We will continue to expand on the topics available to online and on-campus students based on the deficiencies noted by faculty when scheduling is done with Success Coaches.

What have been least effective?

The update of the two-years plan: In June, we had planned to update and redesign the curriculum maps for each degree program, making sure they were accurate and making them more appealing and understandable to the students. Later in the summer, before we began our efforts, we learned of a new and different approach to the core curriculum being developed and working through the USG, so we tabled our efforts until the new core curriculum was available. Therefore, updating our curriculum maps for our degree programs was our least effective effort.

How has your institution made adjustments to your completion activities over the past year?

Over the last year, the Student Learning Communities have encountered some issues. For instance, decreasing student enrollment, limited faculty, scheduling issues, and the co-requisite model have all affected the implementation and success of the project. Under the co-requisite model, students who participated in an SLC were required to register for the co-requisite course associated with it. If the student wanted to withdraw from one of the courses due to being at risk of failing, then he/she was also required to withdraw from the co-requisite course. Thus, students had to make difficult decisions about withdrawing from two courses, putting them behind in their academic progress or remaining in a class that they could potentially fail, which would impact their GPA. As a result, during the Fall 2022 and Spring 2023 semesters, the QEP team met to discuss new approaches and strategies for implementing SLCs. From these discussions, a new approach to SLCs was proposed. Under the thematic approach to SLCs, four to five faculty members would select a theme or themes to base their courses around. Each section of the course taught by these faculty members would be labeled with the theme and have an SL section designation for Student Learning Communities. These four or five courses would be open to all students and not require any co-requisites. If a student registered for at least two of the courses within the thematic learning group, then the student would be considered an SLC participant. It is the hope that this approach will help combat the issues with student enrollment, limited faculty, scheduling issues, and the co-requisite model.

The QEP Director, Jessica Todd, presented the new thematic approach to SLCs to faculty on February 2, 2023, and faculty were able to express their opinions and vote whether they approved of this new approach. The approach was received favorably by the faculty and went through the appropriate forms of governance; it was approved at each step. During the Fall 2023 semester, information and training sessions were implemented to make faculty and advisors aware of the new format and approach to SLCs. Proposal forms for SLCs were revised to reflect the new thematic approach and a training session on how to complete the form was held. For the Spring 2024 semester, we have one thematic SLC on the schedule. We also have a few other thematic SLCs in development for the Fall 2024 semester on each campus.

Increasing the percentage of new freshmen completing initial writing sequence and mathematics courses within their first academic year is one of the focuses from the upcoming EGSC strategic plan. Presented below are the number and percentages of students who were beginning freshmen in a fall semester and successfully completed their core Mathematics and Writing requirements by the conclusion of the following summer semester by earning a Grade C or better in all three core math and writing courses for the 2019 through 2023 academic years.

We are currently revising the activities that will be implemented to achieve this goal. We asked for input from Faculty during a recent faculty workshop.

2- Students enroll in 30 credit hours for each academic year (Fall, Spring, and Summer):

As an access institution, we have two pathways that students can take when enrolling in classes to reach the 30-credit hour goal. One allows them to take classes during the Fall and Spring with a Summer break, and the other requires enrollment during all semesters. While each path allows the student to complete their degree within two years, the three-semester path allows students to complete with less academic stress.
