

Attention Biology students at East Georgia State College

Check it out!

Earn money while supporting your academic career in environmental studies, including a summer internship. This opportunity is directed to small schools such as EGSC, so you have a real opportunity to win this fellowship. Also, this fellowship would meet the requirements for an internship in partial fulfillment of the requirements for your B.S. degree in Biology from EGSC. But the deadline for submitting your application is soon, May 19. Begin filling out your application now.

See Dr. Wedincamp or Dr. Schneider for a complete application form and for assistance in applying.

Greater Research Opportunities
Request for Applications is Now Open

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) announces the posting of the Request for Applications, 2015 EPA Greater Research Opportunities \(GRO\) Fellowships for Undergraduate Environmental Study with the goal of offering undergraduate fellowships for bachelor level students in environmental fields of study. Subject to availability of funding and other applicable considerations, the Agency plans to award approximately 34 new fellowships. Eligible students will receive support for their junior and senior years of undergraduate study and for an internship at an EPA facility during the summer of their junior year. The fellowship provides up to $20,700 per academic year of support and $8,600 of support for a three-month summer internship.

Supporting these fellowships is in line with the Sustainable and Healthy Communities (SHC) Research Program. EPA's SHC Research Program provides useful science and tools for decision makers at all levels to help communities advance sustainability as well as achieve regulatory compliance. SHC is collaborating with partners to conduct research that will result in science-based knowledge to guide decisions that will better sustain a healthy society and environment in America's communities. The research is intended for decision-makers at the federal, regional, state and community levels.
